

THE GLEICHEN CALL

VOLUME XXVIII NO. 18

GLEICHEN, ALBERTA, WEDNESDAY JULY 18, 1934

SUBSCRIPTION $2.00 PER YEAR

REGULAR SESSION TOWN COUNCIL RECENTLY HELD

A long session of the town council was held and many things discussed. The Agricultural Association asked the town for a payment on the land sold for reservoir site. The town, like individuals was hard up, and the councillors informed the Association that just as soon as the town could collect some of the money due they would be pleased to make a payment on the account.

The Muncie account with the Sanitarium was again brought up and then laid aside as there was nothing further to report.

The secretary, Mr. Murray was instructed to write and find out what was being done in regard to the new electric franchise. A letter had been received from Engineer C. Planché advising that he would have some estimates available within the next couple of weeks regarding the extension of waterworks and sewerage system.

The work of fixing up the side walks cost in the neighborhood of $400 and the amount appropriated was $350. There was still a pile of sidewalk to repair at the apex of C. W. Thompson's garage. It was thought best that this work should be done and with cement. Owing to the amount of traffic over this particular piece of sidewalk it was figured that cement was the only thing that could stand the strain and last. Since this meeting this particular sidewalk has been repaired.

The cost of scarifying and graveling the streets last year amounted to $89. It was the intention of the councillor to do some grading this year. It was also brought to the attention of the councillors that some of the town householders had failed to clean up their property. The secretary was instructed to look into this matter and see that the cans and ashes, etc., were put where they belong. It was also asked that some of those who had torn down old buildings left an awfully pile of dirt and rubbish behind. These people are being requested to clean the mess. The frontage tax question the mess.

The frontage tax question came up. This was shelved from the last meeting. It was decided that the frontage assessment for water be left as it was. This is covered by by-law No. 104. The frontage for sewage has two portions. That portion of the town which was paid for by debentures and the other was paid for by the Provincial government. It connects with Eventide Home and was given free to the town. There had been six corrections made to this line at the property owners expense, namely A. R. Yates, Eli Woods, James Greer, C. Johnston, W. Skeneaster and D. Hutchison. It was decided to introduce By-law No. 105 which was the original by-law imposing a seven frontage tax. The assessment was to be reduced from 10c per foot to 5c per foot. By-law No. 258 was introduced and would amend by-law No. 104, imposing a sewer frontage tax. This by-law was read three times and passed. By-law No. 259 was brought in and on motion of D. McDonald was given three readings at the meeting and passed. This by-law will impose a special frontage tax on the sewer line running to Eventide Home.

The secretary stated that the inspector for theatres had been in town and inspected the local hall, and had left his report. Later a letter had been received from the chief inspector of theatres, inquiring if the recommendations had been carried out. The recommendations were being carried out the councillors were informed.

The necessary authority had been received from the Department of Education authorizing the rate of 11 mills for school purposes on unshared farm lands within the school district.

A letter had been received from the Department of Municipal Affairs, Edmonton regarding the changes in the town act, local tax arrears, Consolidation Act, etc. The secretary read that part of the letter regarding the local tax arrears and consolidation act. If the town wished to come under the act it was necessary to pass a resolution and send a copy to the minister. This was done on motion of Councillors MacCallum and McQueen.

PROVINCIAL NEWS

Following the selection of Hon. R. J. Reid, as premier, and the appointment of the new cabinet at Edmonton, a realignment of portfolios was made. Mr. Reid is to premier and provincial secretary. One of the important changes is the concentration of all relief work in the municipal department over which Hon. Hugh Glen, of Grande Prairie, presides. This was formerly split up among three departments. Mr. Allen will thus be burdened with three major departments, namely, relief, municipal affairs and lands and mines, and will be the first cabinet minister to occupy an office in the new administration building. Mr. Reid is named provincial treasurer, Mr. J. McLellan, Taber, minister of public works. Mr. Hoadley retains his health and telephone department. Dr. Baker, education. Mr. Lynburne, attorney-general, and Mr. Griesdale, agriculture.

Although 1933 season was the latest in Alberta history for production of oatmeal butter, the present season, at least for the first half of the year, shows an even greater increase. The total amount of butter delivered to creameries from January to June inclusive this year on has been 10,827,000 pounds compared with 9,580,000 pounds for the similar period of 1933. This is an increase of 11.8 per cent. The largest increase has been in the central and northern sections.

Arrangements are being completed for the marketing conference and co-operative institute to be held at Olds school of agriculture, July 24, 25 and 26 under arrangements with the surplus wheat board trust fund. It is expected that such eminent authorities as Hon. H. H. Stevens, federal minister of trade and commerce; Dr. J. E. Booth, commercial agricultural economist, Ottawa; John I. McFarland, Canadian wheat pool, and others, will be present to discuss problems, as well as representatives of the various co-operative interests in the province. Hon. P. S. Griesdale, minister of agriculture, will preside.

The annual short course for school fair winners is now being held at the school of agriculture at Olds. This school is from Southern Alberta points are at school, and next week 82 from Central and Northern points will be brought in. The course is held under the direction of the provincial department of agriculture. Four scholarships will be awarded during the course in the regular term of the school of agriculture.

Infraction of the game laws of the province by the shooting of wild duck out of season has drawn penalties in two cases recently tried at Onaway, where offenders were caught shooting. The cases were tried before W. C. Turnbull, J. P. of Onaway. John Kime was fined $25 and costs, and his gun confiscated, while Patrick Leland, a half-breed, who claimed he was still under the impression that he could shoot under the half-breed permits which are no longer in effect, was fined $10 and costs, and his gun confiscated. The game branch of the provincial government is prosecuting in every possible case of such infractions.

JOHN E. JAMES PASSED AWAY EARLY SUNDAY

After an illness of some eight months John E. James, passed away early Sunday morning in a Calgary hospital. He was born on the Isle of Guernsey and at the time of his death was 59 years old.

Some 30 years ago he came to Alberta and ranched for several years south of Bassano. Selling out he went to San Francisco and was there during the great earthquake and fire in 1906. Returning to Gleichen he built the Sarnia barn and after running that business sold out and went to England for a holiday. The Sarnia barn was destroyed by fire on the night of April 21st, 1914. Returning to Gleichen Mr. James went into the pool room and bowling alley business, leaving the building where the present pool hall stands. This was destroyed in the big fire some ten years ago. He then acquired the site and built the present pool hall, which he ran until sickness forced him to forsake business.

He is survived by three brothers, Thomas in England, and Walter and Frederick in Gleichen. A sister, Mrs. Biggs, at Beyon and four sisters in England also survive. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon in Calgary, with Rev. Ross Gibney, formerly of Gleichen, officiating. Burial took place in the Union cemetery where he was laid beside his wife who died in 1913.

Here and There

S. S. Empress of Japan arrived at Victoria recently with one of the largest passenger lists in the past three years. There was a total of 577 from the Orient and Honolulu. The liner was also heavily booked for the westbound trip from Vancouver and Victoria.

Speaking at Toronto recently before members of the International Building Owners and Managers Association, E. J. Beatty, K.C., chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, doubled the wisdom of "too elaborate planning" in national economies. Mr. Beatty did not think the present system of society was wrong except in the "way in which it is applied."

The Canadian Pacific Railway will celebrate the fifteenth anniversary of the completion of its transcontinental line next year. It was November 7, 1919 that Donald Smith, later Lord Strathcona, drove the last spike at Craigellachie joining east to west and Atlantic to Pacific.

Hon. Charles A. Dunning, vice-president and general manager of the Selkirk Club, Montebello, Quebec, has been elected a director of Barclay's Bank, Canada. The former Federal Minister of Finance is also president of the Ontario Equitable Life Insurance Company.

After one of the most remarkable and successful meetings ever held by a religious body, the Oxford Group left the Banff Springs Hotel for the East. Many of them sailed from Quebec by S.S. Empress of Australia for England. The next house party will be held at Oxford July 1-14.

Speaking at the Admiral Beatty Hotel, Saint John, Sir William Clark, British High Commissioner to Canada, claimed that the real source of Canada's troubles lay in the economic expansion of agricultural production by industrial countries, especially some of the larger European countries which are normally importers.

Music, moonlight, glorious lake breezes with 600 miles of sailing on the Canadian Pacific's Great Lakes and Annapolis, Keewatin and Manitoba are at the disposal of passengers on the company's liner, the Empress of Canada. The offer promises to be very alluring to Canadians and visitors to the Dominion as well.

Quebec Province is alive with festal celebrations and events this year marking the anniversaries of some of the most memorable events in its history. Among them and the most important is the 40th anniversary of the discovery of Canada by Jacques Cartier in July 1534.

Thank goodness, pedestrians don't have to lose time changing gears when shading a car.

BIG RALLY U.F.A. AND U.F.W.A. AT RIVER NEXT WEEK

Preparations are being made for a rally of the U. F. A. and the U. F. W. A. at the bridge south of Gleichen, on July 25, 26 and 27. The last day will be especially for the juniors although they are invited to attend all three. Go prepared for a three day camp. There will be a refreshment booth on the grounds. The speakers will be Mrs. Price, Mr. Coote, and E. J. Garland.

FROM THE FILES OF GLEICHEN CALL TWENTY YEARS AGO

July 16, 1914.
Miss Murphy arrived Saturday from Chicago to visit her sister, Mrs. Courtney at Cluny.

The All American Girls Baseball team played the Gleichen ball club. The ladies won by a score of 9-0. One third of the girls proved to be men. The Gleichen players were Wade, Stinson, McArthur, Peck, Wilson, Allan, Stamp, McIntyre and Service. Fisher McArthur struck out 12. Wilson hit a home run with two on bases. Geo. Mace and F. Blackburn were the umpires.

The strongest flowing well yet struck at Cluny was tapped last week by the C. P. R. and is for use in the new stock yards.

On Tuesday evening the Naman Odellows installed their officers for the ensuing term. The following were installed: Watts, Wooster, Thomson, Crowe, Egglese, White, Taylor, Colpoys, McKinnon, Pasco, W. Colpoys, Hawthorne, N. White, Montgomery, Marcy, Wheeler.

After five years work and the expenditure of several millions of dollars the Southern Alberta Land Co. had satisfaction of seeing water flow into Lake McGregor at 5 o'clock last Sunday morning which means that about one half of the big irrigation canal is now practically completed, that is sufficiently completed to hold water.

Teddy Wagstaff has left for the Peace River district.

Rain in plenty and hail in a few places is the kind of weather we are getting these days.

The Medicine Hat News states that on Sunday 104 degrees of heat was registered there.

Tomorrow night Cluny and Gleichen will play an exciting ball game here.

PROSPERITY IS RETURNING

Street cleaners report cigar stubs are not nearly so short.

Spare tires are beginning to appear on city racks.

It is said to have children's banks around the house.

People are saying, "Won't you stay to dinner?" as if they meant it.

Men are getting haircuts almost regularly.

Women report a gradual improvement in the quality of bridge prizes, and no body has won a fifteen cent store lamp shade for several weeks.—Exchange.

A strictly enforceable law is sought to prevent cruelty to vacation-time stay at homes. Under this law it would be a misdemeanor to write "When you were here," on the backs of picture post cards. Chronic offenders would be punished by having to bear the company and expenses of any person on whom they had inflicted the phrase three times in the same season.

PUT HIM WHERE HE BELONGS

If there is no breeding place for flies there will be no flies. The almost total disappearance of stables from cities have removed a prolific source of fly propagation. But not all the spots which assist the fly in preserving his species were in the vicinity of stables. Where there is filth there will be flies and where flies go there will be some of the filth accompanying them.

Time was when flies were endured as an inevitable annoyance without an appreciation of the nuisance to health their presence is. They swarmed because no effort was made to eradicate them. That era is past but there are

Breakdown Seems Complete

Failure Of Disarmament Conference
Tragic Thing For World

The breakdown of the Disarmament Conference is complete, however diplomacy may camouflage it, and 20 years after the Great War, the world is about to rearm more lethally than ever.

For this tragic situation some earnest pacifists blame France. Had the first German Socialist regime been more sympathetically treated, they argue, Hitler would never have been heard of. But the French, who lived next to them, contend that Germans have never lost the Nazi spirit, which is merely pre-war Prussianism under a new label and with slightly changed outlook, and that it was sentimental pacifism, in the United States and this country, that actually encouraged the Hitler coup d'état.

With world-wide support, of which North America must be a vital part, the League of Nations might have coerced the post-war world into realistic pacifism. But the golden chance has been missed.

It is hard to see what can now be saved from the wreck. With the disarmament fiasco goes the League of Nations, as an institution of any practical realism, not to mention all the solemn peace pacts, signed with golden pens since 1918, which are now scraps of paper.

Germany and Japan, the two most militarist states, no longer members of the League, and Russia allows herself to be recruited, it will be simply because Moscow sees some tactical advantage in that move against both Germany and Japan, her seaward neighbors.

It remains a fact that self-preservation is still the first law of Nature, in nations as in individuals, and thinking in blinkers, each nation takes a short view of what constitutes safety. The Federation of Mankind has yet to be achieved. It may need another Great War, and wiser statesmanship to do it.—London correspondent Ottawa Journal.

The Game Of Golf

People In England Play More Particularly For Sport

On this continent golf is looked upon as a game for the "white-collar" class—but there is no reason why it should be. Unfortunately the "game of golf" courses makes it fee prohibitive for many (and burdensome, even for some who do play) and the country has not reached the stage where every municipality of size can afford a municipal course. But in Britain it is different. There golf is regarded as everybody's game, and people of all walks of life play it and become proficient, too.

But in England there is a different golf spirit. Here players start out to become experts if they can, and the result is that many excellent players are produced. American golfers make a habit of going over to England and carrying back most of the cups but there is a reason for it. In England they play it for the game itself and the result is that there are a number of really fine golfers in that country—many more than there are on this continent even though they fail to perfect their game to the point where they are successful tournament players.

So it is really no wonder that an unemployed carpenter made such a fine showing in the British Amateur. He has probably been playing golf all his life—and the fact that he is now unemployed, may have given him the chance he needed to concentrate on his play.

Canadian wheat in the United States on June 8 amounted to 6,613,977 bushels, of which 4,923,888 bushels were in store at Buffalo; 125,984 bushels at New York, and 1,540,000 bushels at Erie.

The Ruler Of Turkey

Citizens Do Not Love Mustafa Kemal But Respect Him

Last fall, when Maxim Litvinoff was asked to name the greatest European statesman, he replied, "The greatest European statesman to-day lives not in Europe but across the straits; his name is Mustafa Kemal."

If by greatness he meant power, Litvinoff's choice can hardly be disputed. Outstanding even in this age of dictators, President Kemal has ruled the Turkish Republic since its foundation, eleven years ago. Some of his decrees have been unpopular—especially those tending to Westernize the country, such as the abolition of fezzes, veils, polygamy, and the substitution of the Latin alphabet for the Arabic—but he has been able to enforce them because any opposition to him is merely nominal. The Sultan himself, for whose overthrow Kemal and his armed forces were largely responsible, could do little more.

Yet Kemal's ambitions are not so much personal as they are nationalistic. A greater Turkey, a modern Turkey is his one aim; toward that end he has introduced the efficiency methods of the West and has groomed a staff of travelling diplomats who are making alliances with nations that were formerly Turkey's enemies. For this the Turkish citizens respect him. It is doubtful that they love him, although his earlier exploits in war once made him a national hero.

"The Great and Victorious One" lives at Ankara, the town he has made Turkey's capital. Here his chief interests is the model experimental farm which he has created and which elicits the admiration of all visitors. Kemal is divorced, and has no children. His favorite drink, and it is said that on occasion he can drink a lot of it, is champagne.

Canada's Apt Pupils

The Silver Fox Industry Is Flourishing In Norway

Canada taught several European nations all there was to know about the silver fox industry and they proved apt pupils. In Norway during 1932 and 1933, writes the Canadian Trade Commissioner, silver fox farming has been on a very much better basis than during previous years. The influx of imported animals for breeding stock, particularly from Canada, which was of importance during the first eight or ten years after the Great War, has during recent years almost entirely ceased. During 1933 the Norwegian auctions proved a success with buyers coming in fairly large numbers from several European countries. The attempt to place the Oslo auction of 1933 on a plane somewhat like that of the great fur auctions in London, Leipzig, and New York, while somewhat ambitious, indicates a considerable advance in the general organization of the industry and the distribution of its product.

Canadian Hardwood

An increase of 100 per cent in sales of Canadian hardwood in Great Britain for the first three months of this year has been reported. The figures are placed at 1,206,000 cubic feet this year compared with 604,000 cubic feet during the same period in 1932. Canadian hardwood is being used in increasing quantities in Great Britain for flooring, furniture, and the manufacture of automobile bodies.

Cruise Around The World

Hundreds of British workers and their wives who have never been farther from home than Margate or Blackpool, are planning to take a cruise around the world next year at a cost of $500 to each passenger.

On the 21st of May this year from poultry holdings in Canada were some 2½ million pounds in excess of the previous year, but by June export trade is largely responsible for reducing the stock.

A process by which wool is rendered itchless and shrinkless has been invented.

Held Many Foreign Titles

Duke Of Wellington Received Honors After Peninsular Campaign

Arthur Charles Wellesley, fourth Duke of Wellington, who died in London on June 18, aged 85, was the grandson of Arthur Wellesley, the first Duke of Wellington, who routed Napoleon's forces and hopes at Waterloo. He was born March 15, 1849, the son of Major General Lord Charles Wellesley, second son of the first duke. Thanks to the honors Spain and Portugal showered upon his grandfather after the Peninsular campaign, he probably held more foreign titles than any other member of the British nobility.

He served for some time with the Grenadier Guards and was lieutenant-colonel in command of the 1st Battalion from 1891 to 1895, when he retired. Succeeding to the dukedom and the Spanish and Portuguese titles on the death of his brother in 1900, he inherited also 18,600 acres of land in England and a large estate in Spain as the Duke of Ciudad Rodrigo.

After the establishment of a republic in Spain in 1931, the new government set about plans for seizure of the estates of the nobility, much of which consisted of undeveloped lands and, in 1932, after the unsuccessful revolt of General Sanjurjo, all such estates were declared confiscated unless the owners could show that they were being cultivated in an approved manner.

The name of the Duke of Wellington appeared in October, 1932, on a list of those whose property was liable to confiscation and he offered immediately to sell his lands, which were in a high state of cultivation, to the Spanish government. The government refused the offer and informed him that the land was granted by Spain for services of extreme value rendered to the nation and there was no intention of reclaiming the gift.

The illness of the duke prevented observance of the traditional paying of the "sancti" red, a ceremony presented since the first duke was given with estates in Stratfield Saye, Hampshire, by the British government in 1814. The rent takes the form of a small silk flag which the holder gives the King. Recently the ceremony has taken place in Windsor Castle. The flag is hung on the bust of the first duke, which stands in the guard room.

The heir to the title is the duke's son, the Marquis Douro.

Fight Gas With Gas

France Has Devised Defences Against Enemy Assaults

France is prepared to fight gas with gas and has devised defences against enemy assaults on whole cities by disease germs, military officials revealed.

A newly-developed defensive gas effectively neutralized poison gases which might be dropped on centres of population in air raids, it was said. Another gas, it was explained, would kill microbes released over a city.

Prepared to invoke these new defences, military authorities said they were "not alarmed" by disclosures in London that Germany allegedly has studied the feasibility of flooding London and Paris subway systems with gas and germs.

Marvels Of The Heavens

Astronomer Gives Some Idea Of Age Of Sky

Sir James Jeans, the astronomer, unfolded some marvels of the heavens in a lecture at the Royal Institution recently. Here are some of them: Altogether there are 100 million stars. They are scattered round in the shape of a gigantic cartwheel. This wheel of worlds goes round with majestic slowness. Each revolution takes 250,000,000 years. During the whole of the civilized epoch the wheel of worlds has only moved as much as the hour hand of a clock moves in one second. Yes—and this will give you some idea of how old the skies are—the wheel of worlds shows evidence of having gone round thousands of times.

The New Diana

Fast Mail Plane Of Imperial Airways Well Named

Endurance feats like those of Mrs. Molson and Miss Batten written upon cease to have any good excuse. When Miss Amy Johnson flew to Australia in twenty days the regular air line ended at Karachi, and she was continuing along a route where no woman had flown before. Miss Batten, taking the same trail in the same type of aeroplane, also had some reason for enduring the strain of long days alone in the air. She had not seen her father in New Zealand for a long time and she wanted to get there quickly. She reached Darwin in fifteen days. A few months hence the mails will need only fourteen days for the journey from London to the great cities in the south of Australia. Instead of travelling as these two women pilots did, at a speed of eighty miles an hour, the mails will be taken in the new Diana air line at a speed of 145 miles an hour.

Four years ago Mrs. Molson herself might have been dubbed the new Diana, making her conquests with the aid of horse power in the place of dogs, but landing the chase in otherwise solitary state for the education of the multitude. Her position as the maker of the fastest time for women pilots between England and Australia had stood unchallenged for four years. Now Miss Batten has displaced her by the simple expedient of spending less time on the ground. There was no need to prove that engine and aeroplane would stand such treatment. Mr. C. W. A. Scott and others had driven similar aeroplanes much harder along the same route. Nor was it impossible to obtain faster aircraft for such a journey. The flight clearly was a test mainly of stamina in the pilot, made at the best time of the year for flying and along a route which is nearly ready for the operation of regular mail services.

That same flight will never lack excuse; but when the new Diana of Imperial Airways has taken up her duties, and is couraging along the route once a week in either direction, solitary flights by accomplished young women will fall into the category of channel swimming and motor car reliability trials. Some time in the future the air cruise to Australia may be undertaken in the spirit of holiday rather than of achievement; and when the chase has thus become a procession even the new Diana herself will have been mechanically efficient.—London Times.

Manchurian Army

Japanese Officials Find They Have More Soldiers Than They Need

The problem of what to do about the Manchurian army, now in the uniforms of the state of Manchukuo, is disturbing the Japanese advisers and administrators of the new government.

In the days of Chinese domination in army of more than 300,000 was maintained. This huge force used up more than 80 per cent of the budget, and in addition unpaid soldiers and regional commanders levied special taxes, seized food supplies without paying for them, and paid nothing for billets.

To-day the army of Manchukuo numbers about 125,000 men, and uses up a little more than 30 per cent of the budget.

In all—there are more than 50,000 Japanese soldiers in Manchuria, paid and maintained by the Japanese empire.

Originally the Japanese high command in Manchuria figured that the Manchukuo army need not exceed 35,000 to 40,000 men, but the question now is what to do with the extra 85,000 to 90,000 unwanted Manchukuo soldiers. If they are disbanded, as some have been, they return to landless, kept in uniforms and in barracks, and subjected to training and discipline, they become restless and a danger. They frequently mutiny. When sent on anti-bandit campaigns they refuse to fight unless in the presence of Japanese soldiers.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis

THE MARVEL OF MAN

I thought of man, of his strength and pride. In the wonders he has made; Of his vision, not to be denied, And his wild heart, unafraid.

O, the marvel of man in his upward climb! Since the mist of earth's dim youth And he's toiled with fervor and faith sublime.

And "He draws nearer to truth!"

There are cities climbing to greet the skies, There are conquests of sea and air, And his vision in man and his victories.

That are fit for a god to share.

He has fashioned his life in lofty mould, Has dreamed it with beauty and fire, And his toys are fame's trappings and gaude and glory.

But love is his heart's desire.

Wears King's Medal

Woman Missionary Has Valued Decorations For Service In China

One of the outstanding delegates who attended the biennial meeting in Montreal of the council executive of the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church in Canada was Dr. Margaret O'Hara, retired missionary, who worked in China from 1880 to 1927.

At the opening session of the meeting the decorations worn by Dr. O'Hara attracted much attention. In 1902 she received from the hand of King Edward the Kaisar-i-Hind medal for devoted service during the famine of 1897-1902 in India. For her Alma Mater, Queen's University, she has received the degree of LL.D. and from the W.M.S. a gold medal bearing three bars, in tribute to her work.

Cat's Revenge On Motorist

Near Klagenfurt, Austria, Peter Sussbauer, blared his horn at a prim black cat mimicing across the road in front of his car. The cat swished its tail, arched its back, crouched, hissed, sprang from ground to running board, to door, to steering wheel, to Peter Sussbauer. Quickly scratched and bitten around the neck, Motorist Sussbauer was hospitalized.

Sir Edward Elgar, noted British composer who died last February, left an estate valued at £14,000.

Little Helps For This Week

"If ye fulfill the royal law according to the scriptures, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself, ye do well." James 2:8.

Come children let us go. We travel hand in hand; Each in his brother finds his joy in this wild stranger land. The strong be quick to raise the weaker when they fall; Let love and peace and patience bloom.

In ready help for all.

It is a sad weakness in us after all, that the thought of a man's death follows him anew to us, as if we were not sacred too, as if it were a light thing to fail in love and reverence to the brother who has to climb the whole tollsome steep with us, and all our tears and tenderness were due to the one who is spared that hard journey.—George Eliot.

Would we codify the laws that should reign in households, and whose daily transgressions annoy us, and degrades our household life, we must learn every day to adorn it with sacrifices. Good manners are made up of petty sacrifices. Temperance, courage, love, are made up of the small jewels. Listen to every prompting of honor.—R. W. Emerson.

ARE YOU ON A Diet?

Then, more than ever, Nature needs the assistance, about twice each week, of a Purifying, Energizing, Effervescent glass of ANDREWS' LIVER SALT

In TINS—25c and 40c NEW, LARGE BOTTLE, 75c

Due to curtailment in Canadian lumbering operations and in Newfoundland's lumbering, fishing, and mining, there was a heavy carryover of molasses in Barbados, British West Indies from 1932 to 1933. This year the demand from Canada for fancy molasses has been brisk.

A labor union had to call off a strike because somebody stole the automobile of the walking delegate.

IN UP-TO-DATE STABLES

—Old Reliable Minard's

When horses are in stable with wire-cou or saddle bolts, it is very easy to get under the thing to do it. Get the Minard's bolt at once. As Dr. David of Minard, Manitoba, knows, he writes: "I like your Minard's Lintment. Like to have it in the house. I have found your Minard's Lintment especially good for horse bites on horses."

A family doctor prepared Minard's Lintment over 60 years ago. Still invaluable in every stable and every house.

"I wish I'd known"

There's always a new experience ahead something you haven't done before and which calls for a decision.

You become engaged—and immediately you are called upon to decide on the purchase of many, many things you never bought before.

You marry—and furniture, draperies, silverware, china, radios, gas stoves, automobiles, gasoline and oils claim your dollars and call for your choice.

A baby comes—and again you face a new experience in purchasing clothes and powders and blankets; in buying a crib, baby carriage, foods, toys.

Next—what school? For the years pass incredibly fast. Once more, a new decision.

Every room of your house requires choice. Every meal served in your dining-room results from your having decided on what to serve. Every day confronts you with a multitude of possibilities from which you must select those which make life happier and better, and make the dollars go farther.

How on earth are you going to make those decisions? How can you know what you want and what you don't want? How can you buy to such advantage that you'll seldom, if ever, have occasion to use that futile phrase, "I wish I'd bought something else?"

You get your ideas from reading advertisements do you not?

The non-advertisers should think this matter over too.

Town & District

Jack Anglin of Edmonton is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Anglin.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Haskayne left last week for a short holiday at Manville, Alta.

The boys of the 22nd Battery got away to Sarsore Camp last Saturday. The boys had been looking eagerly for this event and hope to come high in the competitions.

Our Indian friends did not have very good luck in the Calgary Stampede winning prizes, although some of them did manage to get into the day money. They had several entries in the riding events and three wagons in the chuck wagon races.

Jack Morton had tough luck in the chuck wagon race at Calgary. The first night he raced he came in far behind his competitors through his horses lacking the ability to run. A night or so later Jack was kicked by one of his horses and suffered a broken collar bone. This happened just before the race. It appears his horses got tangled and he attempted to untangle them when one of the animals struck him.

Chas. Thompson now has a nice cement sidewalk in front of his place of business. He is gradually making his home one of the most attractive places in town.

Freddy Williams, who for many years lived with his parents on their farm just north of town but now living at Victoria was in Calgary last week. Fred looks just the same as when he lived here. He stated he was unable to pay Gleichen a visit now as he had to hurry back to the coast. He is now living a quiet retired life on Vancouver Island.

J. B. Leggat, who some fifteen or twenty years ago ran an implement business here was in town meeting old acquaintances Sunday. Mr. Leggat is now residing in Calgary.

Mrs. F. M. Halstead, of Nokomis, Sask., arrived in Gleichen Monday evening to visit her son, C. W. Halstead, wife and family. Mr. Halstead will accompany his mother to Banff next week after that she will leave for Edmonton. Mrs. Halstead is the postmaster at Nokomis, which position she has occupied for the past 20 years.

Almost everybody who could get away attend the Calgary show for a day or so last week. All have nothing but praise for what they saw.

Hugh Hamer, who is on the Royal Bank Staff has been transferred to Grand Prairie. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Hamer.

A kitchen shower was given in honor of Miss Hazel Robinson at the home of Mrs. McKeever when some twenty-six people were present. Many beautiful gifts were received. The afternoon was spent in games and music after which a dainty luncheon was served by Mrs. McKeever.

About 1,800 publications on this continent are devoted to business and trade interests.

While many are out of employment at the present time it is regrettable that many others who have regular employment during the year are free during certain months to take positions for that time thus depriving those in actual need of work. It is a different matter when there is work and to spare for all who want it but when times are dull as at present, calls for sacrifice on the part of all, if conditions are to be improved. Men and women with families to support, single men and women out of work, who are looking for summer employment in order to earn a few dollars, should be given consideration by employers while conditions remain as they are. At this time of the year almost every home could readily find employment for a man or woman for a day or two. There are dozens of small jobs to be done, which mean only a small outlay of money to the household, but are an encouragement to those out of work and a bit of cash for which they have many needs.
